

A few weeks ago we highlighted a story about a veteran that had his American Flag desecrated. A few gutless wonders that have no pride in their country let alone any idea of the price of their freedom decided to vandalize an “Old Vets” flag.

One Vet cared and he made sure a brother get a new flag. He happens to be the Staten Island Representative Michael Grimm, a politician who obviously cares and a veteran that paid his dues for his country and is proud of it.

Michael Grimm personally presented and hoisted the new flag, which had flown over the Capitol to a proud WWII Marine Veteran that served his country with pride and dedication.

Here Michael poses in front of the “Old Vets” home with his friend Ted Cohen, his two Grand Sons and Son-in-Law at the raising of a new flag.

Rep. Grimm feels patriotism and pride in one’s country comes with dedication and service, something vandals do not comprehend and never will. We must defend our right to display the colors that never run.
